Arts Curriculum and Complaints Aired At Meetings

By Lee Wicke

(Evergreen's Expressive Arts have been the focus of considerable attention as the college works toward the next state legislative session. In response, Arts, Film, Video, and Creative Writing have been the subject of a series of meetings by school administrators and faculty members for students to discuss the new arts curriculum. The day after this meeting the faculty gathered, this time with the desire to discuss the relationship between performances and the academic program at Evergreen, to recognize "students and others" (including the number of students) participating in performances that should be primarily student instructional purposes.

A statement addressed to B. Johansen, Director of Video, Visual Arts, Creative Writing, and Creative Writing, the show and the present idea, those involved in this matter to prepare for the meeting by considering the following questions:

1. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
2. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
3. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
4. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
5. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
6. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?

Arts, Film, Video, and Creative Writing have been the subject of a series of meetings by school administrators and faculty members for students to discuss the new arts curriculum. The day after this meeting the faculty gathered, this time with the desire to discuss the relationship between performances and the academic program at Evergreen, to recognize "students and others" (including the number of students) participating in performances that should be primarily student instructional purposes.

A statement addressed to B. Johansen, Director of Video, Visual Arts, Creative Writing, and Creative Writing, the show and the present idea, those involved in this matter to prepare for the meeting by considering the following questions:

1. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
2. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
3. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
4. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
5. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?
6. To what extent is teaching quality important to the artists allowing students to play lead roles in performance?

Arts, Film, Video, and Creative Writing have been the subject of a series of meetings by school administrators and faculty members for students to discuss the new arts curriculum. The day after this meeting the faculty gathered, this time with the desire to discuss the relationship between performances and the academic program at Evergreen, to recognize "students and others" (including the number of students) participating in performances that should be primarily student instructional purposes.
Women interested in LEARNING PRODUCTION TECHNIQUES come to an organization meeting Thursday, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m. in the Women's Center, Room 317.

The JEAN SIVY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP is open to female students who have done 12, 15, or 18 hours of work during the summer. Deadlines for the fall semester are Oct. 15, for the spring, Oct. 30, and for the summer, May 30.

The COUNSELLING CENTER is taking applications and is in the process of interviewing students for PERSONAL/PROFESSIONAL COUNSELOR positions during the 1984-85 academic year. No previous counseling experience is necessary. Students wish to engage in helping professions are encouraged to apply. If interested, come to the counseling center and talk with the current staff.

A LOW FAT, SALT AND SUGAR approach to dining. Students will be taught at the Capitol Center, Wednesday, Nov. 11 at 3 p.m. for 55 Includes food sampling, for registration call 354-9000.

Do you want to learn how to give the perfect speech? Join the劝导. Please contact the Career Development Office at 354-6800 for more information.

For information, phone ext. 659 or send it.

Zoske: PLU To TESC

By Sarah Peterson

Handicapped Access and Services is dedicated to supporting students with disabilities at Evergreen. In order to provide the best possible educational experience, Handicapped Access and Services provides a range of services and accommodations for students who identify as disabled. Handicapped Access and Services strives to ensure that all students, regardless of their abilities, have access to the same high-quality educational opportunities.

Q: What is Handicapped Access and Services? Handicapped Access and Services is a department within the Evergreen State College that provides support and accommodations for students with disabilities. Its mission is to ensure that all students can have equal access to education and succeed in their academic pursuits.

Q: What types of support do students receive from Handicapped Access and Services? Handicapped Access and Services offers a variety of support services, including academic accommodations, assistive technology, and disability awareness and advocacy.

Q: How can students find out about Handicapped Access and Services and its services? Students can find information about Handicapped Access and Services and its services on the college's website or by contacting the office directly. They can also attend events and workshops offered by the department to learn more about the services available.

Q: How can students request accommodations from Handicapped Access and Services? Students who believe they may need accommodations should contact Handicapped Access and Services to schedule an appointment. During the appointment, the staff will discuss the student's needs and develop an individualized plan to provide the necessary support.

Q: What is the process for students with disabilities to get approved for accommodations at Evergreen? Students with disabilities who wish to receive accommodations must first contact Handicapped Access and Services to schedule an appointment. During the appointment, the staff will discuss the student's needs and develop an individualized plan to provide the necessary support. Once the plan is developed, the student will submit it to the appropriate academic department or office, who will review it and make any necessary adjustments to the accommodation plan.

Q: How can students contact Handicapped Access and Services? Students can contact Handicapped Access and Services by calling 354-6800, sending an email to disabilities@evergreen.edu, or visiting the office in the Women's Center, Room 317.

Performing Arts

The Light Brigade has announced the opening of "The Big Bad Wolf," a children's musical based on the Brothers Grimm fairy tale. The show will be performed at the State College Performing Arts Center on Friday, Nov. 13 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 14 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and children. Call 354-6800 for reservations.

Enrollment in the Performing Arts program has increased this year, with over 100 students currently enrolled in dance, music, and theater classes. The program offers a wide range of courses, including voice lessons, instrumental instruction, and acting classes. Students interested in auditioning for upcoming productions should contact the program director.

The Performing Arts program also offers a variety of performance opportunities, including the annual musical, "The Little Mermaid," which will be performed in May. Students interested in participating in the show should audition by January 15.

For more information about the Performing Arts program or to register for classes, please contact the program director at 354-6800.
Opinion

Over The Edge

By Eric Bierker

Once a year the President of the country does one. A couple of weeks ago, President Bush did one for the staff. And now is the time for me to do one, because

One of the reasons we’ve been able to cram the entire teaching of the staff into three hours is that there is a certain nonsensical, human naiveté that allows us to say anything we want in the name of ‘truth’. The only other time in our history that we’ve had such an opportunity to speak out is during the time of the great depression, when the country was cut off from the rest of the world by the depression. We must make our voices heard in this time of crisis.

Letters

Closed Shop

I would like to point out to those who are not aware that the union represents the staff. The union is not merely as an option for employees who feel that they provide the best option for consideration. The management employment is a requirement, all new employees, including the janitorial, maintenance, and clerical employees are required to join the union or face their terms.

I do not believe that the advent of the union, this is to benefit the Evergreen community. I do believe it is good and right that the union is available at Evergreen, providing membership for employees who believe it is the best means to resolve their concerns. Financial membership is somewhat alien to many members of the faculty. The majority of them do not want to make a decision to be unionized, so they refuse to join.

As stated above, the choice of whether or not to become a union member is a complex and important decision.

Please recognize that, despite the many benefits of a closed shop, some employees prefer their jobs.

Katie Allen

Absence of Malice

This letter is in response to the article written by the supposed

Legislation That Could Affect Your Education

by Carol Prout

A resolution bill, recently passed by the Student Senate, was sent over to the Board of Trustees for final approval. The bill becomes a law if it is approved by the Board of Trustees. The bill, if passed, will make the following changes to the current educational system:

1. A new requirement for residence students is to reside on campus for one year before being able to purchase off-campus housing.

2. The Senate is considering a new policy that would allow students to purchase off-campus housing without the approval of their academic advisor.

3. The Senate is also considering a new policy that would allow students to purchase off-campus housing without the approval of their residence hall director.

4. The Senate is considering a new policy that would allow students to purchase off-campus housing without the approval of their academic advisor and residence hall director.

Rusell New Chief

by Claire Riches

Gary Russell, who has been serving as Evergreen’s Chief of Police, is set to retire at the end of the year. According to Tom Jacob, Director of Public Safety, Russell has been a dedicated member of the Evergreen community.

WashPIRG Needs You

by Anna Newton

The Evergreen Chapter of WashPIRG is a non-profit, non-partisan organization that works to promote the public interest. The Chapter is dedicated to promoting a clean, just, and equitable future.

We are currently seeking new members to join our ranks.

Requirements for the position include:

1. A commitment to non-partisanship and the public interest.

2. A willingness to work hard for the public interest.

3. A willingness to learn and grow as a member of our organization.

If you are interested in becoming a member of WashPIRG, please contact us at (360) 555-1234 or email us at info@washpirg.org.
Voting is now open!

Roderick

How has it affected the admissions department?

Roderick: Only to the extent that it has worsen our dilemma. We work very hard and we mean that sincerely. The admissions counselors travel a tremendous amount, visiting different groups, community colleges, high schools, and so on. It is very disheartening to have to tell them at a time when many students are making a decision as to which institution they will attend. I think we feel con­cerned that the threat would not materialize any other problem in the past had.

Russell

Continued from page 5

This reflects the degree of uncertainty among prospective students.

Muddy Martians

Campus Security issued a memorandum this week, firmly denying that “during the past week, there have been reports of cars being parked illegally on frontend parking. The reports are false. There is no problem with frontend parking.”

It is the philosophy of everyone that is far more to resolve internally, a situation which evolves a student and the security department. In the best possible way, it is important.

That said, if the college has its evocational staff and anyone else in the college. It means that we are making a point. People are saying, I don’t know what it means, but I made a point.

Russell has the job worth and appreciates the support demonstrated by members of the community.

Classifieds

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ad Date</th>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9/10</td>
<td>11:00 AM</td>
<td>Pacific Northwest</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9/10</td>
<td>3:00 PM</td>
<td>Seattle, WA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The report also notes that there have been reports of cars being parked illegally on the parking lot near the Student Center.

Russell’s job worth and appreciates the support demonstrated by members of the community.

[Image 0x0]

Political Ecology on Hood Canal

by Jim Kerby

Hood Canal is a largely undeveloped stretch of Puget Sound. Residents are being asked to monitor the effects of development on the marine and forest ecosystems. According to the report, "If we can improve the water quality, the marine and forest ecosystems will also benefit."

The report also highlights the importance of protecting the Hood Canal Cooridor for future generations.

Novos Knows Good Material

by David Gay

From time to time, musical groups rely on outside music and video to enhance their shows. Material’s new album, "Out Down," is a departure from the group’s past work, featuring a new sound that is both familiar and fresh. The album includes songs like "Out Down" and "Catch a Chance," and it is sure to please fans of the group.”

For Sale

Our four-month-old Chinese Crested puppy, Toulouse, is for sale. He is friendly, outgoing, and loves to play. He is current on all his shots and is house-trained. He is looking for a loving home where he can be the center of attention.

VeloNotes

by Todd Litman

The speed limit on the Hood Canal Bridge is 40 mph. However, it is recommended that cyclists ride at a slower speed to allow for better visibility.

Remember to always use your lights during the day and night to ensure visibility to others.

CosWeb

ColorWorks!

Create new graphics. Change your image or design. Improve your image. Use colors, contrast, or edition. Make your design stand out.

Rodriguez

Continued from page 1

Unfortunately the public outside the college, including prospective students, do not have this view. We have lost a lot of alumni calls on this matter. The Portland Oregonian had a story on the community. In fact, it said that 40% of students could not get into the college due to a lack of funding.

I was at Fort Vancouver Community College last semester and I would say for 99% of the alumni that we feel that the alumni are not happy with the administration.

Only does it get better answering questions.

How to design:

1. Start with a sketch or a rough idea of the design.
2. Use simple shapes and colors.
3. Consider the viewer’s perspective.
4. Use white space to balance the design.
5. Test the design on different screens and devices.

HCEC

Projects the end of the pipeline, "Pipeline Company" plans to construct an oil pipeline along the west side of Hood Canal.

The pipeline would have a maximum flow rate of 400,000 barrels per day and is expected to provide a significant increase in transportation capacity for the West Coast.

Animal Farm

by Russell Hendryx

Among others.

"The group began as an experimental band, with Nona Hendryx as a singer, and has worked on a number of projects since then."