More than 70 students from eight area high schools will explore The Evergreen State College April 19 in the first of the college's Evergreen Exploration Days.

Students from Olympia, Tumwater, North Thurston, Timberline, Capital, Shelton, Centralia, and Chehalis will arrive on campus by 9 a.m. to attend sessions with Evergreen faculty members on academic interest areas, tour the campus, and meet with college admissions personnel.

Evergreen Faculty Member Dr. Oscar Soule will discuss "What It's Like to Go To College" with the touring teenagers in a morning talk, followed by Dean Dr. Robert Knapp, who will share his views on "Learning at Evergreen."

In addition, students will be invited to play an electronic synthesizer, work on campus computers, swim in the college pool, and explore informally with college students what it's like to attend Evergreen.

They'll leave Cooper Point for their respective high schools about 2:30 p.m.
