

NEWS

The Evergreen State College
Olympia, Washington 98505

for immediate release
December 13, 1974

for further information
Judy Annis, 866-6128

Morton Fabricant, a Newton, Massachusetts senior at The Evergreen State College, has been selected by the Northwest College and University Association for Science (NORCUS) to work on a research project at Battelle Northwest in Richland. in Richland.

Fabricant, who last year directed a National Science Foundation student grant for a study of fluoride contamination in the Columbia River Gorge, will spend the month of January in Richland working with the Hanford Environmental Health Foundation.

NORCUS is a consortium of 40 colleges and universities working together to administer funds provided by the Atomic Energy Commission for education and research. Fabricant is the second Evergreen student to win a competitive NORCUS internship this year. Heidi Krogstad of Seattler, served in the Summer Quarter NORCUS program.

-30-

Dick Nichols, Director
Information Services