Al Rose, a June graduate of The Evergreen State College, has been named assistant director of Evergreen's student activities. The appointment, announced by Activities Director Pete Steilberg, was effective December 1.

Rose, 26, is a Marine Corps veteran of the Vietnam War. He formerly managed the Clark College Student Center before he graduated from that school and transferred to Evergreen, where he has managed the College Activities Building since Fall Quarter, 1972.

In his new role, Rose will be responsible for facilitating the expenditure of funds allocated to student activity groups by the Services and Activities Fee Review Board. He will also act as a program advisor for student groups and activities, and will contribute to the development of student activities policies, Steilberg said.
