Rehearsals began this week at The Evergreen State College for production of a one-act drama and three scenes from two Shakespeare plays which will be presented May 24 and 25 on the Cooper Point campus.

Faculty Member Ainara Wilder said the plays will be produced by students in the Drama and Theater Arts academic study program.

Featured will be a one-act play by Bellevue student David Johnson entitled "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Not Dead." Ms. Wilder said the play "is a take-off on a play by Tom Stoppard, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead," which was originally a takeoff on "Hamlet."

Also scheduled for the Spring Quarter production are two scenes from Shakespeare's "Hamlet" and one from "Othello."
