Actress Jane Fonda and her husband Tom Hayden, both activists in the Vietnam peace movement, will present their new film, "Introduction to the Enemy" in a personal appearance at The Evergreen State College January 8 beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the main lobby of the Library.

The movie, a one-hour documentary of the couple's recent travels to North and South Vietnam, was filmed by Haskell Wexler, who won an academic award for his filming of "American Graffiti." Reviewed by the New York Times, the Fonda-Hayden movie has been described as a "pensive and moving" commentary on conditions in the two East Asian republics.

The presentation, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the student-operated Evergreen Political Information Center.
