"Follow the Yellow Brick Road" will be the topic for discussion Thursday, April 11, at 8 pm in the Tumwater Public Library.

The public forum, seventh in a series of eight discussions about local library services, will explore such questions as "How can the library help to meet our ever-changing educational needs?" and "What needs will arise in the community with the advent of more leisure time and new challenges, on and off the job?"

Margaret Gribskov, professor of history and literature of drama at The Evergreen State College, will be the featured speaker. Also participating will be Robert W. Benson, a public printer, and Jerry J. Vermillion, Director of Continuing Education at O.V.T.I. Four other local residents will also participate in the forum.

Funded in part by the Washington Commission for the Humanities, the series of forums is part of the project "Education: The Public Library and the People's Needs", sponsored by The Evergreen State College, the Friends of the Library, and Timberland Regional Library.

The Tumwater Library is located at 5209 Capitol Blvd., in the South Gate Shopping Center. Refreshments will be served at the forum, which is free and open to the public.
