Stanley Sherman, an actor in the tradition of mime and clown theater, will present four performances in the Olympia area April 23 and 25.

Sherman, a graduate of Ecole Jacques Lecoq, Theater of Mime and Mouvement, Paris, France, has scheduled two appearances April 23 --- at 11 a.m. at Timberline High School and at 8 p.m. in the reference alcove of The Evergreen State College Library.

He has also scheduled dual performances April 25 --- at 11 a.m. in the St. Martin's College Student Union Building, and a special performance for children at 4 p.m. in the Tumwater City Library.

All material in his 45-minute presentations is original and involves use of clown masks, juggling and audience reaction and participation.

Currently director of and a performer in Our Mime Company of Portland, Sherman has appeared on television programs in Portland and Seattle. He has taught mime technique at the Firehouse Theater in Portland, and has taught drama and juggling to children and high school students at the Jewish Community Center in Portland.

Sherman spent a year as an actor with the American Cultural Center Experimental Theater Company in Paris and has performed street theater throughout France.

Sponsored by Eye-5, Sherman's performances are free and open to the public.
