Guest Speaker

Leonard Peltier

Leonard Peltier is a national leader of the American Indian Movement. Mr. Peltier was born on September 12, 1944, on the Turtle Mountain Ojibwa Reservation in North Dakota.

He has spent the last 16 years in federal prison as the subject of one of the most controversial law cases in this country's history. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence for the shooting of two FBI agents during a day-long siege in 1975 on the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota. Over sixty Democratic and Republican Congressmen and Congresswomen, world religious leaders, the National Association of Defense Lawyers and over 20 million private citizens have asked the White House for a new trial for Mr. Peltier. Amnesty International, the world renowned human rights organization, has identified him as a political prisoner.

Mr. Peltier's story has been the subject of several books, including In the Spirit of Crazy Horse by Peter Matthiessen. Oliver Stone is expected to produce a feature film based on Matthiessen's book. Robert Redford also produced and narrated "Incident at Oglala," a documentary based on Peltier's story.

Mr. Peltier is a noted artist as well. His paintings have been shown at a variety of galleries throughout the country. We are very pleased to have shown his work at Evergreen during recent weeks.

Mr. Peltier asked that one of the Native American students graduating today read his remarks. Ms. Rio Lara-Bellon has graciously agreed to do so.

The Evergreen State College Ceremonial Mace

Originally a weapon of offense used in medieval warfare by a king or a great noble, the mace has been refined into a symbolic device used on ceremonial occasions. As an academic device, the mace goes back to 16th century England when Queen Elizabeth I presented a replica of her own royal mace to the corporation of the University of Oxford in 1589. She ordered that it be used in all ceremonies to represent the royal presence and the authority granted to the university to issue degrees under the royal insignia. King Charles I made a similar gift to Cambridge University in 1625. Since that time, it has become increasingly the custom for European, and now American, colleges and universities to use ceremonial maces during graduation exercises.

The Evergreen State College ceremonial mace was carried at the head of the commencement procession for the first time during the 1982 graduation. The mace is rich in symbolism. Beginning with a square core of Eastern Maple, narrow strips of laminated maple and walnut are attached to the core in a cross design. At the open corners, bubinga, a wood red in color and rich in grain, is inserted. The resulting three-foot column was lathed round and represents the tree of life. Nine grooves inlaid with copper denote the nine levels of life from animal spirit to enlightenment. The copper bands suggest the bonding forces of life.

The cap of the mace was turned from a single block of locally grown black walnut. The shape is suggestive of a crown and represents the principal integration of knowledge and experience. To remind us that such an integration is a carefully balanced blend of diverse aspects of human nature, there are inlaid four circles symbolizing the four major ways of experiencing the world: thinking, feeling, intuiting and sensing, and the four main characteristics of the human mind: wisdom, innocence, introspection, and illumination.

Incorporated into this crown is a unique feature: the center is hollow and has in it a sealed vial. It is intended that each year the graduation planning committee will have written one page, to be microfilmed and placed in the vial. Each year the committee will examine the document placed in the mace for the class ten years before and include in the ceremony some short reflection on that piece. The intention is that the mace is part of a living event that connects us to our past, demonstrates our belief and faith in our future and maintains a connection between the two.

The Evergreen State College mace is a gift from the late Byron Youtz, former Academic Vice President and Provost, who donated the materials, and faculty member Earle McNeil, who gave his time and talent to its creation.

Alma Mater Geoduc Fight Song

1. Omnia Extares, Omnia Extares
Alma Mater, Evergreen Omnia Extares

*Go, Geoducs go,
Through the mud and the sand, let's go.
Siphon high, squirt it out,
swivel all about,
let it all hang out.*

2. *Go, Geoducs go,
Stretch your neck when the tide is low.
Siphon high, squirt it out,
swivel all about,
let it all hang out.*
