

December 7, 1971

A newly-formed student drama interest group at The Evergreen State College will present four ~~stone~~-act plays, starting at 7:30 p.m. December 14 in the main lobby of the Daniel J. Evans Library. The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charged.

The Asphodel Fields Theater People drama group includes some 42 ~~to~~ Evergreen students, who ~~are doing everything from selecting, directing and acting in the plays to handling all the auxiliary work such as scenic design, lighting, makeup, sound, costumes, and property.~~ do everything from selecting, directing and acting in the plays to handling all the auxiliary work such as scenic design, lighting, makeup, sound, costumes, and property.

The group was formed early in the Fall Quarter, according to spokesman Marty Oppenheimer, in the Man and Art Coordinated Studies Program a transfer student from Scarsdale, New York. The ~~group~~ students plan to keep the Asphodel Fields Theater People organization active throughout the academic year. Additional dramatic productions will be presented during Evergreen's Winter and Spring Quarters.

Plays to be presented December 14 are:

"Anthropos", written by E.E. Cummings and directed by Sharon Ryals, a Bellevue student in the Individual In America program.

"This Property Is Condemned", written by Tennessee Williams and directed by Kristi Esvelt, a Spokane student in the Human Behavior program.

"Bottecelli", written by Terrance McNally and directed by Keith Burns, a Seattle student in the ~~Individual~~ Individual, Citizen and State program.

And, "Dick and Jane", written by Jules Feiffer and directed by Aliyah Bialock, a Seattle student in the Communications and Intelligence program.

Students participating in the drama group are doing the work as an ~~extra-curricular~~ extra-curricular activity. A Coordinated Studies Program entitled "The Play's The Thing" is scheduled to be activitated later in the school year.

#####

*KITW Dan Clark
Key - Bob McCloud
2/2/72
Best*