...STUDENT NEWSPAPER ON ITS WAY...A student newspaper may hit the presses by the beginning of Spring Quarter thanks to action by Evergreen's Board of Trustees who approved creation of a Board of Publications last week. The Pub Board, when appointed, will select a student editor and begin production of The Paper, which has been out of circulation since last June. In other action, the trustees voted to modify the master plan for additional on-campus housing. The plan originally called for construction of eight new units by fall of 1974 to house an additional 425 students. Because of a reduction in enrollment projections and a freeze on federal subsidies from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the college board voted to cut back the number of structures from eight to five and reduce the number of accommodations from 425 beds to 300.

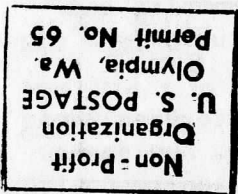

...SEARCH ON FOR TWO NEW DEANS...Academic Dean Merv Cadwallader and Associate Dean Oscar Soule will join the Evergreen faculty next fall, so the search is on for two new deans. Provost Ed Kormondy announced that Cadwallader had elected to move into a faculty position after spending three years as a dean. Soule, who began his associate deanship last fall, has decided to return to the faculty. Nominations and applications for the positions will be received by a campus Task Force until Feb. 21. Only members of the Evergreen faculty are eligible for consideration. The DTF will recommend three persons for each position to Kormondy Mar. 14. Appointments are expected by Mar. 21.

...COMMUNICATIONS CONFERENCE SLATED MAR. 2 & 3...A two-day conference to discuss and demonstrate the communication and information systems being designed for use in Spokane's Expo 74 Worlds Fair will be held on campus Mar. 2 and 3. Called The Global Village, the communications system is designed to help Expo achieve its goals of providing information on the environment. It will also focus on multiple efforts that are underway to insure environmental protection and restoration. Demonstrations of communications equipment and techniques will be offered from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days on the first floor of the Evans Library. The conference will conclude with a special joint meeting of Northwest chapters of the World Future Society.

...CRAFTS ON EXHIBIT...A cluster of one-man exhibits from Seattle's Henry Gallery are now on display in the main foyer of the Evans Library. Entitled "Master Crafts: Northwest Award Winners," the show includes work by four Pacific Northwest artists in the media of weaving, sculpture, jewelry and hand-blown glass. Exhibit hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays; from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Sundays. The show will be on exhibit through Mar. 2. Admission is free.

...FOLK FESTIVAL PLANNED MAR. 2-4...A three-day folk dance festival is slated for Mar. 2-4. Highlights will include a dance Mar. 2, workshops all day Mar. 3 and 4, and a potluck dinner Mar. 3. Exact times and places have not yet been set. Interested persons can contact Dina Hartzell or Mary McCauley, Room 305, College Activities Building (753-3194). Cost of the festival is 75¢ per event or $2.75 for the weekend.

...LEGISLATIVE INTERNS PUTTING IN LONG HOURS ON THE HILL...Three Evergreen legislative interns are finding that they're "learning much more about the legislative process than we ever could have in the classroom," but that it takes more than 40 hours a week to do it. Working full-time with their legislators --- and as often as possible with their academic faculty sponsor Matthew Smith --- are Marcella Wing, a Renton student assigned to Rep. Tom Swayze (R-Gig Harbor); Dave Reeder, Mesa, Arizona, working with Rep. John Martinis (D-Everett), and Mike Harding, of Vancouver, Wash., working with Rep. Al Bauer (D-Vancouver).
