

NEWS

The Evergreen State College
Olympia, Washington 98505

for immediate release

December 4, 1974

for further information

Judy Annis, 866-6128

Callistus Ndlovu, a United Nations representative from the Zimbabwe African People's Union, will deliver a free public address at The Evergreen State College December 6 beginning at 2 p.m. in Lecture Hall Four.

Sponsored by the Evergreen Speakers' Bureau, Ndlovu will discuss the nature of the role of the United States in South Africa, the possible fate of the Ian Smith regime in Southern Rhodesia and the revolution in Zimbabwe, an area in north eastern Southern Rhodesia. The

The Zimbabwe African People's Union, which Ndlovu represents, is an African politican organization which has been banned by the Southern Rhodesian government.

-30-

Dick Nichols, Director
Information Services