...EVERGREENERS FOUNDING MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY...An Evergreen Museum of Natural History may be the end result of a four-week trip to Arizona for 29 students and two faculty members. After spending more than seven months studying the environment of the coniferous forest around the Cooper Point campus, the students took to the road May 1 to study environments sharply different from those of Western Washington.

The trip, which will take the young scientists through Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona, will include two weeks of intensive study at the Southwestern Research Station of the American Museum of Natural History in Portal, Arizona. "We'll be collecting specimens and conducting field research all the way to Arizona," Faculty Member Steve Herman said. "Once, there, we'll work with professional researchers, studying the five different life zones and the wide variety of biotypes found in the center's unspoiled environment." The specimens, collected both along the road and at the center, will form the beginnings of an Evergreen Museum of Natural History. Prime purpose of the trip is not to establish the museum, Herman said, "but to expose students to different environments and to give them an opportunity to compare the high degree of skills they have developed with those of the professional researchers with whom they'll be working in Arizona."

...WILLIAMS NAMED HOUSING MANAGER...Kathy Williams, 26, formerly of Eugene, Oregon, has been appointed housing manager. The appointment, which takes effect immediately, was announced May 1 by John Moss, who was recently named Evergreen's Director of Auxiliary Services. Ms. Williams, who has been housing activities coordinator since December, assumes the post formerly held by Gerald Burke.

...COMMUNITY RESOURCE PERSONS SOUGHT...Persons with skills they would like to share are invited to the classrooms of Olympia school children next fall. A search is on for community resource persons "who can share their hobbies, their occupations and/or their skills with children from grades kindergarten through twelve," according to Ms. Coke Funkhouser of the Olympia School District. Interested persons can sign up any time between now and next fall, and they can select the age group of students with whom they'd like to work, Ms. Funkhouser said. All Olympia-area residents are invited to contact her at 943-3493 for further information.

...AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS INVITED TO COMPETE IN FILM FESTIVAL...Amateur photographers from Thurston and Mason Counties are invited to submit film entries to Evergreen's Bent Reel Film Festival to be held May 19 in the Library beginning at 8 p.m. Organized by students in the Cinema Studies program, the festival competition is open to all interested amateur film makers. Entries, which must be submitted by May 12, may include Super 8, Regular 8 or 16 millimeter films. Both black and white and color movies --- with or without sound --- will be accepted. Interested persons can contact Faculty Member Gordon Beck, Library 2114, or call 753-3975.

...SOME EVERGREEN NAMES IN THE NEWS...Admissions Director David Brown served as chairman of the Registration and Information Committee at the Western Regional Conference of the National Association of College Admissions Counselors held in Los Angeles in April. ...Faculty Member Don Chan was an adjudicator for the Washington Music Educators' Competition, Southwest Division, held in Chehalis. Chan said his duties included providing constructive criticism of student musical performers.
