

NEWS

The Evergreen State College
Olympia, Washington 98505

for immediate release
December 31, 1975

for further information
Judy Annis, 866-6128

The lives and works of some of America's best known craftsmen will be examined in a free public showing of the film, "With These Hands: The Return of the American Craftsman" at The Evergreen State College January 7.

The film, shown at 7:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall ~~200~~<sup>FIVE</sup>, is offered as part of a Winter Quarter course entitled "The Craftsman in Contemporary Society" taught by Evergreen faculty artist Peggy Dickinson.

Ceramics, weaving, wood working, furniture and glass blowing will be discussed in the film, along with the lives and works of artists Paul Soldner, Toshiko Takaezu and Dorian Zachai.

The film is free and open to the general public.

-30-

Dick Nichols, Director
Information Services