SPRING QUARTER REGISTRATION FOR PART-TIME STUDENTS SET APRIL 2

Spring Quarter registration for part-time students has been set for 7 to 9 p.m. April 2 in the Evergreen Admissions Office, room 1101 of the Library. Associate Dean Oscar Soule, who is coordinating the part-time studies program, said one program has been especially designed for part-time students and four other regular academic programs are open to part-time students.

"A part-time student at Evergreen can earn one unit of credit per quarter," Soule said. "This is the equivalent of five quarter hours elsewhere, and involves academic work at the rate of approximately one-third of the full-time student load at Evergreen."

Tuition is $115 per quarter, plus initial payment of an application fee ($15) and an advance deposit ($20), Soule said. The advance deposit is returned to the student when he withdraws or graduates (see Evergreen Bulletin, pages 200-201).

Faculty members for the academic programs outlined below will be available for consultation April 2. Registration and payment of fees will take place in the Admissions Office immediately for those part-time applicants whose interests can be served, Soule said.

Programs offered for Spring Quarter are:

Politics Values, and Social Change: The Contemporary Ideological Firmament

This program is especially designed for part-time students. Behavior in contemporary society is heavily influenced by various limitations of a social, political and/or environmental nature. This program will involve a review of some of the contemporary ideological statements provoked by those limitations. This will then be followed by a critical analysis of ideologies pointing to constructive change. The part-time program will consist of lectures Monday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m., followed by lunch/seminars on Tuesdays from Noon to 2 p.m. The seminars will center on weekly books and their relationship to the lecture. Participants for credit will complete a paper on one of the nine lecture/seminar topics.

For further information, contact Faculty Member Beryl Crowe, 753-3985.

The following are regular Evergreen programs and are designed so part-time students can work in conjunction with full-time students in various areas.

Cinema Studies --- Seminars dealing with in-depth study of the following films:

Monday Afternoons

CULPEPPER CATTLE COMPANY
CHEYENNE AUTUMN --- Ford
WILD RIVER --- Kazin
SINGIN' IN THE RAIN --- Donen
IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT --- Capra
A WALK IN THE SUN --- Milestone
GRAPES OF WRATH --- Ford

LA TERRA TREMA --- Vixconti
I VITELLONI --- Fellini
ORDET --- Dreyer
VIVRE SA VIE --- Godard
ECLIPSE --- Antonioni
THE SERVANT --- Losey
REPORT ON THE PARTY AND THE GUESTS --- Nemeç

Students will be expected to write a minimum of four papers for this program. For further information, contact Faculty Member Gordon Beck, 753-3975.

Physiology and Population Biology --- One group will meet three times a week to discuss topics within the area of population biology and another group will meet to deal with general physiology. Scheduling will be worked out once the groups are organized. For further information contact Faculty Member Burt Guttman, 753-3945.

Multi-Media, Slide Tape and Video Production --- This program is designed for person with appropriate media skills who can formulate a project which could be used to document, explore or promote a social or institutional need. Time arrangements can be made to suit the individual student.

For further information contact Faculty Member Sid White, 753-3975.

Readings in Dramatic Literature --- One weekly seminar will be held on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to Noon. Discussions will focus on literature dealing with twentieth century drama.

For further information contact Faculty Member Ainara Wilder, 753-3972

For additional information about all opportunities currently available, interested persons are asked to contact the faculty leaders named in each program description. Additional information on admissions and registration procedures can be obtained from the Office of Admissions, 753-3150, room 1101 of the Evans Library, Soule said.

MARTIN NAMED ACADEMIC DEAN, CADWALLADER ROTATING INTO FACULTY

The appointment of Rudy Martin as an academic dean at Evergreen was announced Mar. 21 by Provost Edward J. Kormondy. The appointment is effective on or about July 1. Martin, who has been a member of the Evergreen faculty since 1970, will replace Dean Mery Cadwallader, who at his own request, will move into a faculty position the first of July.

"The change is part of a developing program proposed by our current deans in which we will shift academic administration assignments on a regular basis by rotating faculty members into deanships and, ultimately, back to teaching positions," Kormondy explained. "This will provide flexibility and broadened participation in academic administration while also allowing some very talented people who serve as deans a chance to become part of our instructional team."

The 37-year-old Martin currently is a member of the faculty team directing the Politics, Values and Social Change Coordinated Studies Program. He received his bachelor's degree in English from the University of California at Berkeley in 1957, a master's degree in English from San Francisco State College in 1961, and will complete his doctorate in American Studies at Washington State University this June.

"Martin will be a decided asset to Evergreen's academic team," Kormondy added. "His strength of character and conviction, his personal warmth and charm, and his commitment to Evergreen's programs will help us as we move from our present solid foundation into new programs in the future."

Prior to joining the Evergreen faculty, Martin taught at WSU, Modesto, California Junior College, San Francisco State College, and at a high school in Susanville, California. Martin and his wife Gail have five children: Skip, 15; Lori, 12; Grant, 13; Gregg, 12, and Paul, eight months.

PAPER STAFF FORMED, EDITORS APPOINTED

Twenty-two students have signed up for the staff of the Evergreen campus newspaper, and seven of them have been named to the newly-created student Editorial Board. Editor Andy Ryan said the first staff meeting was held Mar. 20 and an editorial board was created to meet "at least weekly to review the status of news and feature stories and to determine editorial policy."

Named to the Editorial Board as associate editors were Charles Williams and Nina Devoe, feature editors; Stan Shore and Anne Hoffman, news editors; Jim Fleming, entertainment editor; Kevin Hogan, Happenings editor, and Skip Berger, editorial page editor. Doug Ellis was appointed managing editor earlier this month and will also serve on the Editorial Board, along with Ryan.

The community newspaper, whose first edition will be off the presses April 17, will be headquartered in rooms 203 of the College Activities Building and 3205A of the Library. Seven issues will be published Spring Quarter, with the final edition due May 29.

In other news relating to the newspaper, Publication Board member Sally Hunter has resigned. Ms. Hunter, who was recently named assistant to the provost, said the time restrictions of her new position prevented her from devoting enough energy "to do a good job on the Publications Board."

First meeting for the Editorial Board is scheduled for 8 a.m. April 4. The Publications Board, composed of students, faculty and staff who govern overall operation of the paper, will also meet April 4, at 10 a.m. Locations for the two meetings have not yet been set.

MCCANN TO TRAVEL TO LOS ANGELES, GREEN BAY

Charles J. McCann, Evergreen President, will travel to Los Angeles, California and Green Bay, Wisconsin the first week of April. Invited to participate on a panel in Los Angeles April 2, McCann will address a national conference of the American Society for Public Administration. April 4, McCann will discuss "Problems of a Problem-Focused College" as a lecturer in the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Lectures and Fine Arts Program.

252 INTERNS ON THE JOB IN FEBRUARY

The Office of Cooperative Education reports 252 interns were on the job in February, an increase of 39 over the January report. One hundred and fifty students are serving full-time internships while 102 are working part time. Fifty faculty members are sponsoring intern programs along with 11 staff. Total monthly income for the 66 off-campus students who receive wages was $18,893 in February.

18-YEAR OLDS MUST STILL REGISTER FOR THE DRAFT

A news release from the Washington State Headquarters of the Selective Service System released Mar. 8 reminds all 18-year-olds that they still must register for the draft and be classified by their local draft boards "even though we are not now drafting any young men."

State Director Dick Marquardt said that the Military Selective Service Act which Congress passed into law in 1948 remains in effect and requires young men to register within 30 days of their 18th birthday. "Only that section of this law which deals with the authority to actually induct expires on July 1," Marquardt said. Anyone with questions concerning the draft laws is invited to call his office in Seattle: 442-4144.

JAZZ ENSEMBLE, CHAMBER SINGERS SLATE CONCERTS

The Evergreen Jazz Ensemble and Chamber Singers have lined up a full schedule of concert dates for Spring Quarter. Faculty Member Don Chan, director of both groups, said the performances will take students to Portland, Centralia, Hoquiam, Kent, Auburn, Tacoma, Shelton and Bremerton and will also include several concerts in the Olympia area and on campus. First performance of the quarter will feature the Jazz Ensemble in concert with the Hoquiam High School Stage Band April 4 at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Hoquiam. More details on other Spring Quarter concerts will be available after the first of April.

TRYOUTS FOR CHAMBER ORCHESTRA SET APRIL 2

Tryouts for the Chamber Orchestra will be held April 2 at 4 p.m. in room 2101 of the Library, according to Faculty Member Robert Gottlieb, director of the musical group. Students skilled in performing on string, wind or brass instruments --- including violin, viola, cello, double bass, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, trumpet or french horn --- are encouraged to audition. The orchestra holds rehearsals every Monday from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Library.

OLYMPIC COMMUNITY COLLEGE THESPIANS TO PERFORM HERE APRIL 4

Thespians from Olympic Community College will perform the classic Russian play, "Uncle Vanya" Apr. 4 at 8 p.m. in the fourth floor cafeteria of the Library. Directed by Olympic Faculty Member Bill Harvey, the 20-student cast will be hosted by students in the drama and theater arts group contract for their overnight stay, which is one of their first stops on their Spring Quarter tour. They performed the production last quarter on the Bremerton campus.

EVERGREENERS TO PERFORM IN TACOMA OPERA

Six students and Faculty Member Don Chan will be involved in the Tacoma Opera Society's production of "The Gypsy Baron," Mar. 29-31 in the Eastvold Auditorium at Pacific Lutheran University. Chan, who will serve as artistic director for the production, said the six students, who will all be participating in the chorus, are Colleen Hunt, Brian Magruder, Bruce Olsen, Dena Reeves and Roberta Schmitz.
