

K. By called 12/1/72
L. W. c. 12/4/72

Two pre-Christmas musicals will be presented this week at The Evergreen State College, both free of charge and open to the general public. Both will be held in the main lobby of the library building and both start at eight p.m.

On Wednesday evening, faculty director Donald Chan will present a Music Celebration, featuring Evergreen's Chamber Singers and Jazz Ensemble. The Chamber Singers will present a concert basically of Christmas carols. The evening's program also will include a presentation by the Evergreen Recorder Ensemble, under the direction of Faculty Member Jack Webb and a number of selections by the Evergreen jazz ensemble, directed by Chan.

Thursday evening's performance will be a Concert of Baroque and Contemporary Music, presented by the college's new Chamber Orchestra, directed by Faculty Member Robert Gottlieb.

Also on tap in the musical vein is a December 11 presentation of vocals and instrumentals by 37 Evergreen students, all of whom will be performing their own works. Scheduled for eight p.m. in the Library Building, this concert also is free and open to the public.

XXX

(Monday)

Other events this week, all free to the general public include a December 4 presentation at eight p.m. by Canadian poet Pierre Coupey in the main foyer of the library.

(Tuesday)

A December 5 lecture by Evergreen faculty member Eric Larson entitled Truth: Models and Ethics in Social Science. 8 p.m. Lecture Hall Auditorium One.

(Thursday)

A December 7 lecture by faculty member David Peterson entitled Defeat On Everest, 11 p.m. Lecture Hall One.

Mt

The same evening, (Thursday) December 7, another showing in the Cinemaarchives Series. This time the film "Greed", scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall 3.

(Friday-Saturday)

And a two-day Arts and Crafts Fair will be held December 8 and 9 in the main mall of the College Activities Building. Community participation welcome.

###