HAPPENINGS FROM THE THIRD WORLD COALITION - NOVEMBER

INDIGENOUS DINNER SET

The Third World Coalition along with MEChA, Ujamaa, NASA, Third World Women, and the Asian/Pacific Isle Coalition will be hosting a special Thanksgiving dinner in observance of Indigenous People's Day. The dinner will be held on Saturday, November 21, in CAB 306, from 6 to 9 p.m. The evening's activities include a buffet-banquet and dinner, music by Tropical Illusion, a mellow contemporary duo from Tacoma. The program will end with guest speaker Lionel Kinunwa, principal of the Wa-he-lute Indian School. After the festivities in CAB 306, you are invited to dance to the music of Sundance in the 2nd Floor Library Lobby. Free tickets to see the popular Seattle based Salsa-Reggae-Funk band will be available to Third World students attending the Thanksgiving dinner. All Third World students, staff, and faculty are welcome to attend.

WORKSHOPS SLATED

The Third World Coalition will be sponsoring a joint workshop on Time Management and Personal Financial Management on Friday, November 20th at 12 noon in L-3205. The hour long workshop will be conducted by Stone Thomas and Jeff Hamley. If you are having some difficulty handling your school workload or balancing your personal budget, you owe it to yourself to check it out.

In addition, the Coalition will be sponsoring a workshop on writing evaluations during the first week of December. For more information, contact the Third World Coalition.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT POTLUCKS

Several potlucks and "Get Togethers" for International students have been scheduled on November 11, 25 and December 5 in CAB 306. These gatherings provide opportunities for International students and other "Greeners" to meet and socialize. The Wednesday evening potlucks are sponsored by the "Geoduck Social Club."

BLACK HAIR CARE PRODUCTS AVAILABLE

Betty Harris, Program Secretary for Upward Bound has recently opened a cash and carry beauty supply house that specializes in Black Hair Care. The shop is located at 5806-25th Loop S.E., Lacey, WA., 98504 (Ruddle Road & 25th Avenue) and it's the first shop of its kind to be opened in the Olympia area. Store hours are Mondays through Fridays, 4 to 7 p.m., and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. If you are not able to make it out to the shop, Ms. Harris will be glad to take your order and deliver your products to you on campus. A list of products and prices will be posted at the Ujamaa Society Office. For more information, contact Betty at 866-6012, or 456-2793.

GOD'S TROMBONE

The Paul Robeson Community Theatre Group will be presenting a play by James Weldon Johnson, entitled "God's Trombone." The play, written in the period Black historians call the "Harlem Renaissance," has been described as a legacy to the Black church. The theatre group has added original music and choreography to Johnson's play and the combination has been received well. Show dates are November 15,20,21,22 at the Langston Hughes Theatre on 17th and Yesler in Seattle. Curtain times are 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and 7 p.m. on Sundays. Admission is $5 for Adults and $3 for senior citizens and children under 12. For information on group rates, call 242-4699.

WA-HE-LUTE SEEKS HELP

The future of the Wa-he-lute Indian Pre-school program is uncertain. Due to federal cutbacks and the current economic climate, the program is in danger of being closed down. In efforts to raise money for the preschool, a salmon bake will be held on Saturday, November 21, at 2 p.m. The benefit, located at the Wa-he-lute school at Franks Landing, (11110 Conine Avenue S.E.) features salmon, baked potato, corn on the cob, fried bread, and salad; However, organizers of the fund raiser are seeking additional financial support.

As stated in a recent press release by the school, "Our future as Indian people is yet in the minds of our preschoolers. We as parents are only entrusted with the care of their spirit. The earlier they find their own path, the sooner they can plan our future."

If you wish to donate any time or money to the Wa-he-lute Indian School, you can contact them at (206) 456-1311.
