

3:00 - 4:30

- Sex, Socializing & Single
- Great Eating - Food Coops
- Time Management
- Politics and The Single
- Alternative Living Arrangements
- Stress Management
- Upon Being Alone
- An Olympia Solo Center?
- Legal Issues for the Single
- Older & Wiser?

CHILDCARE:

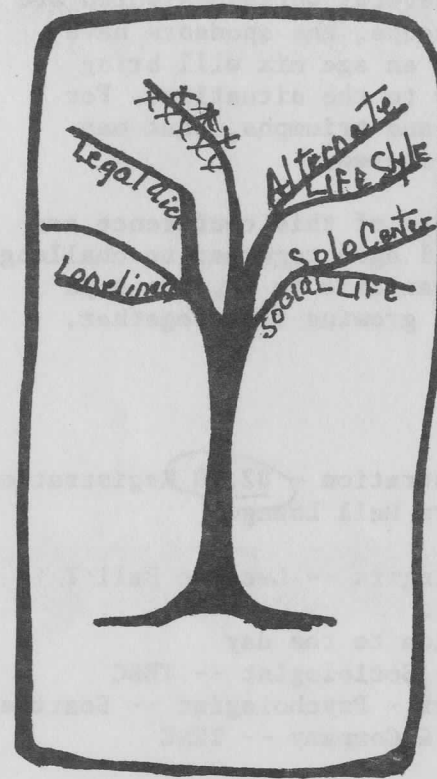

Pre-school child care will be available for a nominal fee -- check with registration area

THE ORGANIZERS:

The energized team includes: Judy Hollar, Marilyn Luring, Francia Luessen, L. "Bud" Hufford, George Barner, Tricia Hamilton, Sherry Smith & Pat Spears & Eleanor Moody

THE SPONSORS

Thurston County Ministries of Higher Education
Human Growth & Counseling Center -- TESC
YWCA of Olympia
The Senior Center
Community for Christian Celebration
The Evergreen State College Faith Center

Challenge
of Being Single

Evergreen
St. College

May 14
9-5

A day of workshops and celebration for people - never married, divorced, or widowed

PURPOSE

Although there may be several workshops which are more vital to certain age groups, the sponsors have tried to design themes where an age mix will bring more challenge and diversity to the situation. For each age holds special joys and triumphs, that may encourage others when it is shared.

The goals of the sponsors of this conference are to bring single people of all ages together to challenge and explore opportunities available to us. We hope it will be a celebrative and growing time together.

SCHEDULE:

9 a.m. Coffee; Registration - $2.00 Registration Fee -- Lecture Hall Lounge

9:30 - 10:30 Speakers & Singers -- Lecture Hall I

An introduction to the day
Carol Olexa - Sociologist -- TESC
Harry Springer - Psychologist -- Seattle
Betsy Koenig & Company -- TESC

10:45 - 12:15 Workshops -- Library Building

12:15 - 1:30 Lunch (sack lunch or TESC snackbar)

1:30 - 3:00 Workshops -- Library Building

3:15 - 4:30 Workshops -- Library Building

For further information contact:
Tricia Hamilton 352-8485
866-6151 - work

CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS:

Workshop leaders are from our local community, and the Western Washington area. They will share their understanding of our concerns, and help us to look at future possibilities.

10:30 - 12:15

- The Buck Stops Where?...Money Management
- Aloneness vs. Loneliness
- Developmental Stages of Adults
- Stress Management
- Parenting Alone
- Politics & The Single
- I'm Sick & Tired - Health Management
- Sex, Socializing & Single
- Great Eating - Food Coops
- Time Management

1:30 - 3:00

- Upon Being Alone
- An Olympia Solo Center?
- Older & Wiser?
- Legal Issues for the Single
- Alternative Living Arrangements
- The Buck Stops Where?...Money Management
- Aloneness vs. Loneliness
- Developmental Stages of Adults
- Parenting Alone
- I'm Sick & Tired - Health Management

NEWS

The Evergreen State College
Olympia, Washington 98501

for immediate release
May 5, 1977

for further information
Judy Annis, 866-6128

Single persons are invited to explore the challenges of remaining unwed May 14 in an all-day workshop at The Evergreen State College.

Called "The Challenge of Being Single" the Saturday session seeks to "bring single persons of all ages together to challenge and explore opportunities available to them," according to conference sponsor Reverend Tricia Hamilton, Evergreen campus minister.

Participants, who have never been married, divorced or widowed, will select from workshops on such topics as: management of health, money, stress and time; parenting alone; legal issues; food; alternative living arrangements; developmental stages of adults; politics and the single person; and aloneness versus loneliness.

Rev. Hamilton says she hopes the day's activities "will be a time of growth and celebration." She says registration begins at 9 a.m. in the Evergreen Lecture Hall lounge and costs $2. Speakers and singers will introduce the program at 9:30 in Lecture Hall One, followed by workshops continuing through 5 p.m.

Sponsors of the program include Thurston County Ministries of Higher Education, YWCA, Senior Center, Community for Christian Celebration, and Human Growth and Faith Centers at Evergreen.

Pre-school child care will be available for nominal fees. Persons seeking additional information on the conference or child care arrangements are invited to call Rev. Hamilton at 866-6151.