A slide/lecture on Pilchuck Glass Center in Whatcom County will be presented April 20 at 1:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall Five at The Evergreen State College.

Mini Curry and Rob Adamson, director and assistant director, respectively, of Pilchuck Glass will show examples of the work they've done in the center, which is located in an isolated rural setting which allows the artists "total concentration on teaching and learning."

The lecture/slide presentation, sponsored by Evergreen's Craftsmanship academic programs, will include discussion of the fine art of glass blowing, as well as the Center's new program in flat glass work, which will be offered "as a result of the tremendous interest in stained glass."

Evergreen Faculty Artist Peggy Dickinson describes Pilchuck Glass as "one of the outstanding class centers in the country for dealing with glass as an art medium."

The afternoon program is free and open to the public.
