Guest Speaker bell hooks

Born Gloria Jean Watkins in 1952, feminist scholar, African American activist, poet and social critic bell hooks adopted and lower-cased her nom de plume in honor of her outspoken great-grandmother and the wisdom of our foremothers. A Kentucky native, she rose to prominence in 1981 with her book, Ain't I a Woman: Black Women and Feminism, which Publisher's Weekly ranked in 1992 among the 20 most important women's books of the last 20 years. An extremely prolific writer of more than a dozen books, hooks taught women's studies at Oberlin College and African American studies and English at Yale. She is currently a distinguished professor of English at New York City College.

Well known for her deconstructive analyses of race and gender, hooks is also famous for her advocacy of black female fortitude. Her prose and poetry are an analytical yet impassioned look at how feminism, the civil rights movement and critical theory cooperate and clash with the world at large and within the self. Familiar themes in hooks' essays, poetry and memoirs include black women finding their voices within mainstream feminism and the ills of classism, racism and feminism. Her works include Art on My Mind: Visual Politics; Bone Black: Memories of Girlhood; Feminist Theory: From Margin to Center; Killing Rage: Ending Racism; Teaching to Transgress: Education as the Practice of Freedom; and Reel to Real: Race, Sex and Class at the Movies.

Class Theme

"If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours."

— Henry Thoreau, 1886, Walden

Dedication

The 1998 graduation ceremony is dedicated to Arnaldo Rodriguez, Ph.D., former Dean of Enrollment Services, and to the late Judith Huntley, former Registrar.

CEREMONIAL MACE

Originally a weapon used in medieval warfare by a king or great noble, the mace has become a symbol used on ceremonial occasions. As an academic device, the mace goes back to 16th-century England, when Queen Elizabeth I presented a replica of her own royal mace to the corporation of the University of Oxford in 1589. She ordered that it be used in all ceremonies to represent the royal presence and the authority granted to the university to issue degrees under the royal insignia. Since that time, it has become increasingly the custom for European, and now American, colleges and universities to use ceremonial maces during graduation exercises.

The Evergreen State College mace is a gift from the late Byron Youtz, former Academic Vice President and Provost, who donated the materials, and faculty member Earle McNeil, who gave his time and talent to its creation.

The shape of the cap is suggestive of a crown and represents the principle of knowledge and experience. To remind us that such an integration is a carefully balanced blend of diverse aspects of human nature, there are inlaid four circles symbolizing four major ways of experiencing the world— thinking, feeling, intuiting and sensing — and four main characteristics of the human mind— wisdom, innocence, introspection and illumination.

THE COLLEGE MEDALLION

Medallions are traditionally worn by presidents and chancellors at ceremonial occasions. The medallion designed for Charles McCann for his inauguration in 1972 was given by Dr. McCann to the Library Archives.

The College's second medallion (which President Jervis wears today) was designed for her installation in September 1994 by Spokane artist Joyce Attwood. It is fabricated of moonstone (from Nepal), paua shell (from New Zealand), turquoise, silver, copper, brass, gold and acrylic and is suspended on a 30-inch chain (from Thailand). The medallion design shows an evergreen tree with Mount Rainier and the sea in the background. It is an interpretation of the Evergreen logo, designed in 1973 by Connie Hubbard, the College's first graphic artist. In 1983, the Board of Trustees approved the "tree" as the official college emblem and it was registered with the Secretary of State as Evergreen's logo.

ACADEMIC COSTUMES

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. Long gowns and hoods were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings. Today, many institutions choose distinctively colored gowns. The design of the sleeve indicates the level of the degree earned by the wearer. Hoods have both the colors of the institution and a band indicating the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Omnia Extares

1. Go, Geoducs go,
Through the mud and the sand,
let's go.
Siphon high, squirt it out,
swivel all about,
let it all hang out.
2. Go, Geoducs go,
Stretch your neck when the tide
is low,
Siphon high, squirt it out,
swivel all about,
let it all hang out.
