- Peer support (see below)
- Mentoring Program (see below)
- Workshops, support groups
- Advocacy and referral
- Community meetings
- Library/Lounge/Meeting room
- Personal computer and typewriter use
- Outreach

First Peoples Advising Service

Peer Support

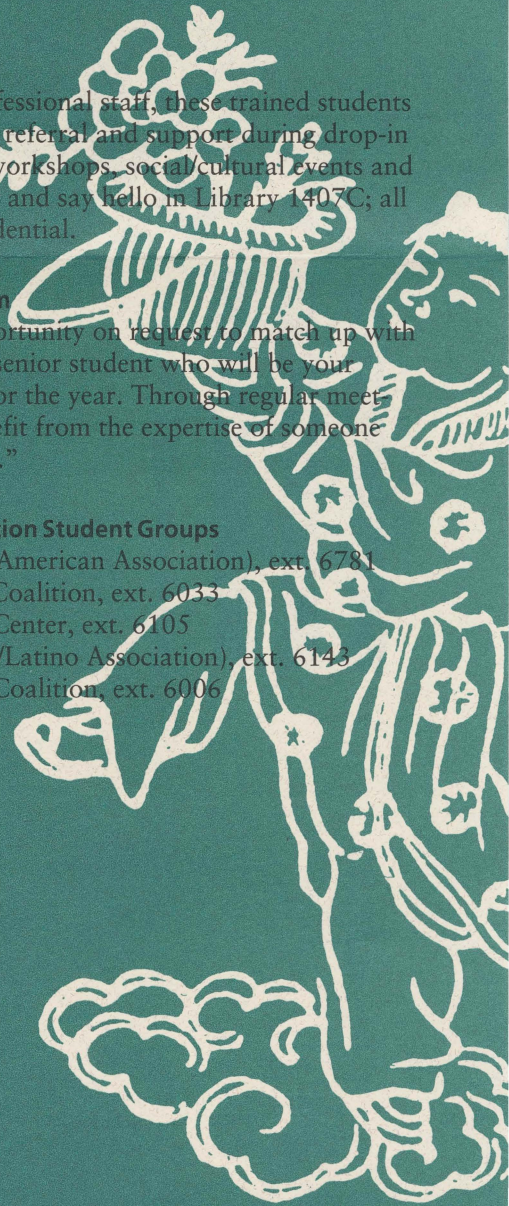

Supervised by professional staff, these trained students provide advocacy, referral and support during drop-in hours, as well as workshops, social/cultural events and outreach. Drop by and say hello in Library 1407C; all contacts are confidential.

Mentoring Program

You have the opportunity on request to match up with a staff, faculty or senior student who will be your personal mentor for the year. Through regular meetings, you will benefit from the expertise of someone who's "been there."

Who are "First Peoples"?
We refer to People of Color (Native American Indians, African Americans, Chicanos/Latinos, Asian/Pacific Islanders) as First Peoples in recognition of our unique indigenous heritages.
