The entire faculty and administrative staff of St. Martin's College will move in mass to The Evergreen State College Friday afternoon (April 30). No, St. Martin's and Evergreen aren't merging, according to Evergreen Faculty Member Dr. Robert Barnard, "we're just getting better acquainted."

Dr. Barnard said he and his Evergreen colleagues were welcomed to Olympia by the St. Martin's staff "way back in our planning years." "We've been meaning to return their cordial greeting ever since. Now we're finally going to do so," he adds.

Classes on both campuses will close early to allow all faculty and administrative staff to participate in a complete tour of the Evergreen campus and to enjoy an informal "get acquainted" session.
